“Towards an International Metrics Agenda for Privacy-Policy Making”

Joint event co-hosted by ICDPPC, APPA and OECD

A 90 minute roundtable organised by the ICDPPC Secretariat and OECD Secretariat will be held on 27 September 2017 alongside the 39th International Conference of Data Protection and Privacy Commissioners to explore the scope and objectives of an international privacy metrics agenda.

Date and time: 3.30 – 5.00pm, 27 September 2017

Venue: Camomile Room (Lower Level II), Kowloon Shangri-La, Hong Kong, 64 Mody Road, Tsim Sha Tsui East, Kowloon, Hong Kong

Focus: The meeting will report on current efforts to understand and improve the availability of internationally comparable metrics for privacy policy making and continue and promote a discussion on advancing a privacy metrics agenda. The meeting will include presentations in relation to ongoing international projects. There will be an opportunity for an open discussion on how best to take this work forward and, in particular, how to make the most of opportunities for collaboration between international bodies engaged with the issues.

Registration: The meeting is open to anyone interested in the subject but space is limited. Priority for available space will be given to people who have registered to attend. To register, please email Linda.Williams@privacy.org.nz.

ICDPPC Census 2017: The ICDPPC Census was run for first time this year and will provide the most comprehensive survey of privacy and data protection authorities yet undertake. The results will be tabled earlier in the day in the Commissioners’ closed session and will be released publicly for the first time at the Roundtable.

Moderator and presenters

The Roundtable will be moderated by Jennifer Stoddart, former Privacy Commissioner of Canada (2003-13), host of 29th ICDPPC (Montreal, 2007) and Chair of several OECD experts groups on privacy.

Elettra Ronchi PhD, Head of Unit- Senior Policy Analyst, Digital Economy and Policy Division, Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development, will speak on OECD's current work on improving the evidence base for security and privacy policy making in relation to the OECD's digital measurement activities and more specifically on promoting comparability in personal data breach notification reporting.

Blair Stewart, Assistant Privacy Commissioner, New Zealand, and ICDPPC Secretariat, will speak about efforts to give effect to the Conference's Resolution on developing new metrics of data protection regulation and on initiatives in the Asia Pacific Privacy Authorities Forum.

Michael McEvoy, Deputy Information and Privacy Commissioner, British Columbia, and APPA Secretariat and Chair APPA Governance Committee, will speak on APPA's most recent work in comparative privacy statistics resulting in the establishment of regional benchmarks for privacy awareness.

Other presenters are yet to be confirmed.
